

Two-Factor Authentication for Remote Access

Duo Security

Duo's secondary authentication prompt is shown inline after users enter their username and password successfully.

Users never leave the context of their typical login experience.

Duo Mobile is used to quickly and easily generate login passcodes — with or without cell service. Duo Mobile is available on all major smartphone platforms.

Android and iPhone users can use Duo Push to view transaction details and log in with one tap! Visit duosecurity.com/duo-push

Protect Remote Access

Duo Security provides two-factor authentication as a service, designed to prevent unauthorized access by malicious attackers. Duo's drop-in VPN integration is available for all major SSL VPN platforms — most installations require no hardware or software and can be set up in minutes.

Great user experience

Users enroll themselves and manage their own devices, all on your site and within the context of a typical login.

Layered security

Duo's second-factor authentication follows your existing primary authentication. Duo remains completely separate from the username/password step, and your users' primary credentials and personally identifying information are never exposed to Duo.

Choice for users

Users can choose their authentication method each time they log in, which provides the flexibility to support all devices (mobile app, cell phones, landlines, and hardware tokens) and login scenarios (no cell service, traveling internationally, etc.).

Compliance made simple

Duo helps companies easily comply with federal and industry regulations that require strong authentication.

Cost-effective

No hardware to deploy and manage, and no need to manually enroll or configure user accounts.

Secure and reliable

Duo's scalable, high-availability service is balanced across multiple geographic regions, independent service providers and power grids, and backed by a strong service level guarantee with over 99.995% uptime since 2010.

Duo's two-factor authentication service brings strong, scalable security to organizations of any size. Every day, over 500 organizations in 40+ countries rely on Duo to secure their logins and transactions. Learn more at duosecurity.com

617 Detroit Street
Ann Arbor, MI 48104
1 (855) 386-2884
info@duosecurity.com